

The Society for the Scientific Study of Sexuality

Hugo G. Beigel Award

The Beigel Award was initiated by Clive M. Davis, the second editor of The Journal of Sex Research (JSR), and approved by the Board of Directors of the Society for the Scientific Study of Sexuality (SSSS). The award is named in memory of Dr. Hugo Beigel, a founding member of SSSS and the first editor of JSR, a position he held for 13 years. This honor promotes and rewards research excellence in sexual science and is granted annually to the author(s) of an outstanding report published in JSR. The winner(s), selected by the Editor and Associate Editors, receive(s) a cash grant of $500, a Certificate of Research Excellence from SSSS, and a registration fee waiver for the fall annual meeting of SSSS, where the award is presented.

The winners of the Beigel Award for 2005 are Patricia Barthalow Koch, Phyllis Kernoff Mansfield, Debra Thureau, and Molly Carey, for their article “‘Feeling Frumpy’: The Relationships Between Body Image and Sexual Response Changes in Midlife Women,” published in the August issue (Vol. 42, No. 3).
