WELCOME! FROM THE SCIENTIFIC PROGRAM COMMITTEE CO-CHAIRS

November 2020

Dear SSSS Members and Annual Conference Attendees,

Welcome to the 2020 SSSS Annual Meeting! This year's conference is SSSS's first ever Virtual Conference, and we are extremely excited that you are joining us in this new format to share some of the greatest new findings in sex research.

The COVID-19 pandemic has presented unparalleled challenges for in-person conferences, higher education, and many of our professional and personal lives. It is not safe or feasible to do business as usual this year, but it is our hope that this alternative format also presents opportunities for greater accessibility, including significantly reduced cost for attendance. While we all value the energy from our lively in-person meetings, we hope that this virtual conference will allow us to continue to share cutting edge research and connect with colleagues as the exciting field of sex research continues to move forward.

Founded in 1957, The Society for the Scientific Study of Sexuality continues to grow and expand, in both membership numbers and in diversity of scientific topics, theories, and methods represented. We have an exciting lineup of sexual science research as well as educational and therapeutic initiatives that demonstrate this intellectual diversity. This year's program features 195 on-demand Member Posters, Brief Communication Presentations, and Continuing Education Webinars. There are opportunities to connect with both the on-demand presentation presenters as well as live talks via the Q&A platform.

We're also pleased to host five live keynote sessions, including 3 plenary addresses and two symposia, covering a range of impactful material from fantastic colleagues:

- Christine Soyong Harley (President & CEO of SIECUS) will discuss the importance of new sex education initiatives in the Social Justice/Public Service Policy plenary titled Expanding the Vision: Why We're Talking about Sex Education as a Vehicle for Social Change.
- Dr. Laina Bay-Cheng (University at Buffalo) will discuss her integrative work on young women's sexual lives, Agency Through Thick and Thin: How Girls Exercise Sexual Agency Amid Social Injustice.
- Dr. Dustin Duncan (Columbia University) will share his multi-disciplinary approach to minority health, Impact of Neighborhoods on Health Disparities: Application of Geospatial Methods Among Black Sexual Minority Men and Transgender Women of Color.
- Symposium on Troubling Orgasm: New Ways into Sexual Pleasure, featuring work by Sara Chadwick, PhD; Jennifer Chmielewski, MS; Deborah Tolman, EdD; Breanne Fahs, PhD; and Christin Bowman, PhD.
- Symposium on Sex and Relationships in the Time of the COVID-19 Coronavirus Pandemic, featuring work by Justin Lehmiller, PhD; Justin Garcia, PhD; Kristen Mark, PhD, MPH; Rhonda Balzarini, PhD; Amanda Gesselman, PhD; Giulia Zoppolat, MS; Amy Muise, PhD; and Richard Slatcher, PhD.

Throughout the conference, SSSS will announce awards as we continue to recognize and honor individuals who have made outstanding contributions to the public, the SSSS organization, and the field of sexual science, through their research, books, articles, services, and community!

In addition to enjoying the On-Demand Presentations and live Plenary & Symposia Presentations, we're thrilled to continue our networking opportunities. All student registrants are invited to attend the Student Social on Thursday evening for discussion, trivia, prizes, and networking! There are also six Special Interest Group (SIG) networking opportunities, which are offered at three different times on Thursday and Friday – network and connect with others who share your interests!

As part of the conference, we are also offering you an opportunity to sit back, relax, and take some time to watch three separate films, as part of a Mini Sexuality Film Festival. Two of the three films will be available immediately, and the third film will be available starting Nov 14. We look forward to you rating each film separately – the winner will be announced at the conclusion of the SSSS Virtual Conference!

SSSS leadership, including the Board of Directors, remains committed to ensuring that this meeting is an accessible, safe, and secure space for all. An American Sign Language interpreter will be visible during all live sessions. SSSS has again incorporated Ombuds services for attendees – please join us at opening announcements for specific details. There will be additional details about the Ombuds services posted on our website. If you experience discrimination, harassment, or unwanted attention at our virtual conference, you can contact the independent and confidential Ombuds at any time at ombuds@proactive-resolutions.com. We also encourage you to contact SSSS Office Manager, Dawn Laubach at TheSociety@SexScience.org or SSSS President, Dr. Zoë Peterson at Zdpeters@iu.edu, with any thoughts, suggestions, feedback, or concerns.

Thank you again for attending SSSS's 2020 Annual Conference! We encourage you to engage with the scientific program and on-demand presentations by thinking critically, listening carefully, and using the virtual platform to engage in respectful and constructive dialogue. We hope you will find the meeting both professionally enriching and engaging. The SSSS team has worked diligently to pull this virtual conference together, but we do ask for your understanding and patience as we explore this new platform together. For more information on the virtual platform, and if you have any questions, please contact the SSSS Office at theSociety@SexScience.org.

We look forward to being together and hope you enjoy the conference!

The Journal of Sex Research (JSR) is a scholarly journal devoted to the publication of articles relevant to the variety of disciplines involved in the scientific study of sexuality. JSR is designed to stimulate research and promote an interdisciplinary understanding of the diverse topics in contemporary sexual science. JSR publishes empirical reports, brief reports, theoretical essays, review articles, methodological articles, commentaries, and letters to the editor. We do not accept personal narratives or case reports. Each year we publish the Annual Review of Sex Research, an issue devoted to comprehensive reviews of current topics in sexual science.
